

Story E Telling
Karen Chace © 2005
Storytelling Magazine March/April 2005

Buddhist

Two volumes of stories plus a wealth of information based on the teachings and life of Buddha.
<http://www.buddhanet.net/e-learning/buddhism/index.htm>

Community Media Workshop

A guided press release creator tool with media strategies and techniques to help you produce a press release with pizzazz!

http://www.newstips.org/interior.php?section=PR+Tips&main_id=141

Thanks to Karen Wollscheid for sharing this gem!

California Sheet Music Project

A virtual library of over 2,000 pieces of sheet music from a variety of cultures, published in California between 1852 and 1900 with related materials

<http://www.sims.berkeley.edu/%7Emkduggan/neh.html>

French Spot

Oo la la! Free original web graphics including borders, backgrounds, tiles, textures, dividers, banners, and more to make your marketing material sizzle!

<http://www.frenchspot.com/>

Marco Polo

Marco Polo's journey lasted 24 years and now his name graces a site that will help teachers and storytellers travel the world. Lesson plans, resources and a calendar of important events are just a few of the illuminating offerings; a truly remarkable teaching tool.

<http://www.marcopolo-education.org/home.aspx>

The Online Books Page

Looking for a book that isn't available at your local library? The Online Books Page offers access to thousands of books that are freely readable over the Internet. Search by title, author or keyword and you will be flipping through their cyber pages in no time at all!

<http://digital.library.upenn.edu/books/>

Popular Cambodian Folktales

Four folktales retold; the main site also offers information on the history, people and culture of Cambodia.

<http://www.einaudi.cornell.edu/SoutheastAsia/outreach/resources/CambodiaWebUnit/Folktales.html>

Sacred Text Archives

On your mark, get set, GO! Begin exploring the world through this amazing collection of texts on religion, mythology, legends, folklore, and more.

<http://www.sacred-texts.com/index.htm>

Story Theater

Doug Stevenson is a different kind of storyteller, mixing practical business experience with theatrical talent. His site offers two articles that complement this issue's theme of signature stories.

http://www.dougstevenson.com/storytheater/5_2.shtml

http://www.dougstevenson.com/storytheater/5_3.shtml

Whopper of a Tale

Are you planning on using Tall Tales in your storytelling or teaching this year? Then lasso this site, complete with lesson plans, curriculum connections, story and song suggestions, and activities.

<http://www.thesolutionsite.com/lpnew/lesson/13155/overview.html>

World of Quotes

Brush up your Shakespeare... Everyone needs a good quote now and then to spice up their stories or presentations. Browse by topic, author or culture.

<http://www.worldofquotes.com/proverb/index.html>